Description:

Is it possible to build a house in only two hours? Either they would prove the doubters wrong and go down in history, or they would go up in flames. Only time, the next few hours to be exact, would tell. A group of East Texas homebuilders dreamed of setting a new world record for building a 2,249 square foot house from the ground up. To do so, they would have to pour a concrete slab that hardened in only 22 minutes and paint the house in the same time it takes to brush your teeth. Plans called for a traditional home that met or exceeded code at every turn. It took two years of planning, 1,000 volunteers from every trade and more than a little luck to pull it off. It was an enormous puzzle with thousands of pieces. But once they dumped everything out of the box and onto the lot inside a new subdivision, would all of the pieces fit together? What this team learned about life, leadership and the persistence of the human spirit will motivate you to transform your own life, work and home from the ground up.

There are many great nuggets of information in this book for any leader and planner. I especially liked reading Brian's stories about reverse planning (which I used for every mission as an Army Aviator), Color coding (amazing how this one little idea fixed havoc and confusion), and how important a foundation is to your business (you will have a laugh at the Stuck Boots). One thing that really stood out in my mind was how Brian was able to keep himself and everyone else motivated after such huge setbacks and failures during their practice runs. After reading the book, I really wanted more details and found them in the DVD that Brian offers at his website. Seeing this home put together in a few hours, and watching the level of detail that went into each aspect of the build was truly amazing. I highly recommend the book and DVD for any leader, planner and especially any home builder or remodeler. Don Peters Lone Star State Construction San Antonio, Tx
